

Daily Life - Pizza Delivery (C0052)

A: Good evening, Pizza House. This is Marty speaking. May I take your order?

B: Um yes... I'd like a medium pizza with pepperoni, olives, and extra cheese.

A: We have a two-for-one special on large pizzas. Would you like a large pizza instead?

B: Sure, that sounds good.

A: Great! Would you like your second pizza to be the same as the first?

B: No, make the second one with ham, pineapple and green peppers. Oh, and make it thin crust.

A: Okay, thin crust. Your total is $21.50 and your order will arrive in thirty minutes or it's free!

B: Perfect. Thank you. Bye..

A: Sir, wait!! I need your address!

Key Vocabulary

medium	Adjective	an average size, not too big or small total	Adjective	complete amount you must pay instead	General Adverb	in replacement of sounds good	verb	seems or appears to be okay, I agree pepperoni	common noun, sin- gular	a spicy sausage usually on pizza

olive	common noun, plural	a small, egg-shaped black or green fruit that is used as food or for making oil crust	common noun, singular	the border of a pizza, or bread two-for-one	phrase	pay for one and get another one free

Supplementary Vocabulary

total	common noun, singular	sum of everything fast food	common noun, singular	food that is quickly made and convenient if you are in a hurry delivery	common noun, singular	transported or taken to your house dough	common noun, singular	a mix of flour and water that is used to make the base of a pizza

take-out

Adjective

food you take away from the restaurant to eat (AmE)